WOULD ABOLISH PRIMARY PLAN

Constitutional Proposal to Be Submitted to Voters.

SENATOR BURKE ENTERS RACE

Files Declaration Papers as Candidate For Republican Nomination For Governor—Chiropractors Expected to Propose Constitutional Amendment—Morrow to Seek Nomination For Attorney General.

Columbus, May 15.—State Senator J. H. Burke of Elyria, publisher, filed declaration papers as a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

The declaration bears the signatures of Arthur L. Garford, former Bull Moose leader; Rev. Edwin Kirby, Mrs. Nellie M. Hill, W. C. T. U. president; Asaph R. Jones, former mayor of Elyria, and George H. Chamberlain, chairman of the Lorain county Republican central committee.

The senator served notice upon Republican organization leaders that he is in the race to stay and that he will not step aside for any candidate endorsed by the pre-primary convention called for May 20.

Declaration papers were taken out for Thomas H. Morrow of Cincinnati, who will seek to capture the Democratic nomination for attorney general. Morrow was assistant attorney general of the United States under President Wilson.

Congressman William M. Morgan of Licking county has written to the secretary of state asking that candidacy declaration papers be provided for him as a candidate to succeed himself as representing the Seventeenth district.

Several constitutional proposals will be submitted to the voters at the August primaries.

One of these will propose abolishing the primary system itself, an amendment having been drafted within recent weeks and petitions are now being printed for circulation.

This amendment, or one similar to it, is expected to have support among Ohio Republicans, it having been indicated by Chairman Charles W. Montgomery of the Republican state central committee, when he issued the call for a pre-primary convention last week, that plans for a primary abolishing amendment were under consideration by the committee.

Another proposed amendment seeks to give Ohio chiropractors jurisdiction over their own affairs and freedom from the supervision of the state medical board, which board, they charge, is not fair to their interests. Petitions are now being circulated and some 80,000 signatures have already been obtained, it is said.

COUNCIL TO RESIST

Will Fight Any Attempt to Increase Gas Rate at Capital.

Columbus, May 15.—Any increase in the gas rate at the expiration of the present agreement July 12 will be opposed by the city council. This stand was apparent after the members of council heard L. B. Denning, president of the local distributing companies, ask for an increase of 10 cents per thousand cubic feet. Council long ago prepared to oppose an increase by employing Harry R. Alenworth, gas expert, to investigate the gas situation for the people of Columbus.

Denning, who is the representative of the gas companies in the negotiations for a new gas council, asked the following scale from council's public utilities committee: Fifty-five cents a thousand cubic feet for the first 10,000 feet; 65 cents a thousand for the second 10,000 feet, and 75 cents a thousand for all over that. The present rate is 45, 55 and 65 cents for the successive blocks.

Ford as Referee.

Indianapolis, May 15.—Henry Ford will referee the twelfth annual international 500-mile race at the Indianapolis motor speedway May 30. Ford started driving racing automobiles in 1903. While he established one straightaway record, which stood for some time, he was more successful in building speedsters for the veteran Barney Oldfield and Frank Kulick of Detroit.

Lamp Exploded.

Bemidji, Minn., May 15.—Three children of Mr. and Mrs. Eneville Strangeland of Nymore, a suburb, were burned to death when fire, caused by an exploding lamp, destroyed their home. Other members of the family also were seriously burned.

JURYMEN TO TESTIFY

Verdict in Case of Former Dry Agent Disapproved by Public.

Youngstown, O., May 15.—Members of the jury that acquitted J. N. Carrothers, former dry agent, have been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury and testify. The summons followed public disapproval of the freeing of Carrothers on a bribery charge and the statements of some of the jurors themselves that they believed him guilty and did not intend to acquit him on the bribery charge, but only that of bribing an officer. Carrothers was found not guilty after a three-day trial, in which his attorney, F. R. Hahan, did not fight the bribery charge, but only that part of the indictment which charged him with bribing an officer.

Charge Against Dry Officer.

Middletown, O., May 15.—Fred Morrison, a prohibition agent, working out of the court of Mayor Danah at Trenton, is said to have shot and seriously wounded Angelo Parelo, while a raid was being made at Parelo's home. The police say that Parelo was handcuffed when he was shot. Morrison was placed under arrest.

HOUSE LEADERS AT WHITE HOUSE

Japanese Exclusion Provision Given Another Airing.

EFFORT MADE TO DEFER DATE

President Would Take Sting Out of Exclusion Legislation, So Far as the Japanese Are Concerned—Veto of the Soldier Bonus Bill Anticipated—Congress to Adjourn June 7, According to Agreement.

Washington, May 15.—A conference was held at the White House at which a final effort was made to postpone the date of Japanese exclusion, now set for July 1 in the immigration bill.

Members of congress attending the conference included Representatives Longworth, the Republican leader; Garrett, the Democratic leader; Garner, Democrat of Texas; Snell, Republican of New York, chairman of the rules committee, and Chairman Albert Johnson of the house immigration committee. President Coolidge is said to have submitted a new proposal to the house leaders by which the sting could be taken out of the exclusion legislation so far as Japan is concerned.

Demand for action on Muscle Shoals legislation at this session of congress, and particularly on Henry Ford's offer, was made in the senate by Senator Heflin of Alabama and Shields of Tennessee. Heflin charged that companies bidding for Muscle Shoals had entered a combination to defeat Ford's offer.

It is said that President Coolidge plans to go before congress in person to deliver his message vetoing the soldiers' bonus bill. The president has until midnight Friday to act on the measure.

Agreement on adjournment of congress by June 7 was reached at a conference between President Coolidge and house leaders of both parties. Announcement of the agreement was made by Representative Longworth of Ohio, Republican floor leader of the house, who participated in the meeting. Longworth said that the entire legislative situation was gone into to determine when adjournment can be taken.

PROHIBITIONISTS TO MEET

Possibilities For the Presidential Nomination Announced.

Columbus, May 15.—Speakers of note are on the program announced for the state and national prohibition party conventions to be held here June 4, 5 and 6. Combined meeting of the state and national conventions will be held on the evening of June 4 in the chamber of commerce auditorium, and sessions of the national gathering will open the following morning in Memorial hall, winding up with a mass meeting on the evening of June 6, at which addresses by nominees for president and vice president will be a feature. A national platform will be adopted and candidates named for president and vice president at the morning session, June 6.

Among men who are being mentioned as possibilities for the presidential nomination are: Former Congressman Charles H. Randall of California, D. Leigh Colvin of New York, vice presidential candidate in 1920; Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania and H. P. Paris of Missouri, who will sound the keynote of the convention.

HERE AND THERE

Mrs. Marie Saffrage, 53, was found murdered in West Paterson, N. J. She is said to have had a considerable sum of money. Five men, the victim's husband, three nephews and a friend, have been detained by police.

Dr. George W. McDaniel of Richmond, Va., was elected president of the Southern Baptist convention at Atlanta.

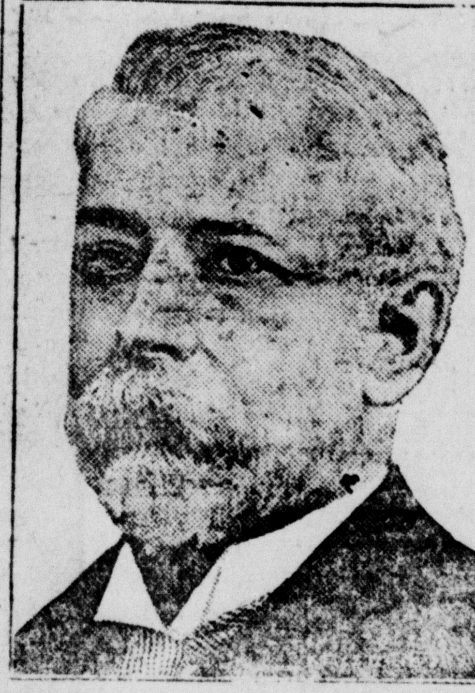

Arthur L. Curran, head of the Kansas City group of federal prohibition agents, and five agents working under his command were indicted for alleged graft by a federal grand jury. Vatican denied reports that Pope Pius is ill of uremia.

Nine New York cabarets, including many of the leading night resorts, were ordered padlocked for a year by Federal Judge Luce under the Volstead law.

Purchase by the government of the Cape Cod canal for $11,500,000 is provided in a bill passed by the house. The measure now goes to the senate.

DOINGS IN OHIO

Langley to Fight.

Cincinnati, May 15.—Congressman John W. Langley will not resign his seat in congress unless the committee now investigating his case requests it. Henry Davis, his attorney, made this statement just before the congressman's party left for Washington, after Langley and three alleged fellow conspirators were sentenced to two years each in federal prison for violating the liquor laws. Langley stated his intention of carrying his fight to the highest court in the land if necessary. His counsel applied to the circuit court of appeals for writ of error, after a new trial was denied.

Discount Company Held Solvent.

Cleveland, May 15.—Final decision that the Cleveland Discount company is solvent was made by Federal Judge D. C. Westenhaver. The report of Special Master P. L. A. Leighley, in which the company was reported solvent by $2,000,000, was concurred in by Judge Westenhaver. Unless attorneys for the Discount company or creditors initiate action to appeal the decision to a higher court, the ruling of the United States district court will be final in the case.

Found With Broken Neck.

Youngstown, O., May 15.—Paul Delphine, 26, died from a broken neck received in a mysterious fall in a park just outside the city. Two stories are told concerning the young man's death. A man who was with him said he found Delphine's body in a building on the trapshooting range, where he had taken refuge from a heavy storm. Another report was that Delphine fell while both were running to the building.

Woman Fires on Raiders.

Steubenville, O., May 15.—Dry raiders had a narrow escape at the home of Stanley Kearns at Amsterdam, near this city, when Mrs. Kearns opened fire through a window. The woman fired a shotgun at the raiding party and then emptied two revolvers. She was later arrested and taken to a hospital after suffering a nervous breakdown.

Dry Agent Convicted.

Toledo, May 15.—A jury here convicted Charles B. Moore, former dry agent, of manslaughter in connection with the shooting of Anthony Mayer on a dry raid May 19, 1923. No liquor was found in the search. It was claimed Mayer was defending his property. Moore was charged with second degree murder.

Dies on Way Home.

Cleveland, May 15.—Jan Peteric, 45, who received $2,700 from the state industrial commission while working at a local plant, after his arm had been crushed, died in New York while waiting for a steamer to take him back to his home in Jugoslavia. The $2,700 was found sewed in his clothing.

Engineer Hanrahan Dead.

Delaware, O., May 15.—William Hanrahan, 52, Big Four railroad engineer, died at his home here of acute indigestion. A widow and six children survive.

Probing Crossing Tragedy.

Bowling Green, O., May 15.—Authorities are probing the grade crossing accident near Haskins, which resulted in the deaths of Helen Scheid, Blanch Hicke and Leona Hoffman. The three girls were killed when a Baltimore and Ohio special train crashed into their machine. Miss Scheid, the daughter of Daniel Scheid of Haskins, was driving her father's car at the time of the accident. Rain was held to have obstructed the vision of the young women as they approached the grade.

WHEELER FOUND "NOT GUILTY"

Charges Against Senator "Not Supported by Facts."

FINDING OF SENATE PROBERS

Senator Sterling, Prosecutor in the Investigation of the Montana Senator, Expected to File a Minority Report—Hearings of Senate Oil Investigating Committee Closed. Unanimous Report Not Likely.

Washington, May 15.—A report completely exonerating Senator Wheeler of Montana on charges of misusing his office will be submitted to the senate.

The committee which probed the charges will return a verdict of "not guilty." By a vote of four to one, the members held that the charges in the indictment returned against Wheeler by a federal grand jury in his own state were unsupported by the facts.

Action on the report by the senate is understood to be unnecessary as grounds for impeachment were not found. Senator Sterling of South Dakota, who assumed the role of "prosecutor" in the investigation, is expected to file a minority report. No date has been set for Wheeler's trial in Montana, but the senator declared he would insist upon speedy action on the part of the department of justice. He wants an immediate hearing and the indictment against him quashed, he said.

Hearings of the senate oil committee have been closed. Adjournment was taken subject to call of the chair. Senator Walsh of Montana, the committee prosecutor, said he had no more witnesses to call, and would not ask for another hearing unless the courts should compel Harry F. Sinclair to return and answer the questions to which he has heretofore refused to reply.

After the meeting had been adjourned members of the committee expressed the opinion that a unanimous report would not be possible. Democratic members said unanimity was out of the question unless Senator Spencer and one or two other Republicans who have supported him were willing to abandon their position and join the majority.

PARTY LEADERS FACE KLAN ISSUE

Smith, Ralston and Underwood in Alleged Coalition.

Washington, May 15.—Party leaders are facing the Ku Klux Klan issue as a result of the klan victory in Indiana.

All eyes are on President Coolidge to see what position he will take with respect to Indiana's klan controlled Republican organization. Senator Watson, one of the Coolidge lieutenants, has been quoted as supporting Ed Jackson, the klan nominee for governor.

A close working agreement is said to exist between the Underwood forces, the Smith forces and the Ralston forces in the Democratic presidential fight, whereby they will make a common cause at New York for the insertion of an anti-Ku Klux Klan plank in the Democratic platform for 1924.

Leaders here say the agreement in effect is a coalition against W. G. McAdoo that may have a significance out-reaching the klan issue itself. The fight to have the platform declare against the klan will be started and pushed at New York by the Underwood managers. The Smith contingent will support it for the reason that Governor Smith is a Catholic, and the Ralston people will fall into line because the klan issue is predominant in Indiana.

Senator Underwood himself is leaving the bulk of the fight against the klan to his managers. He has spoken against the order on several occasions.

Home Dynamited.

Cincinnati, May 15.—A dynamite bomb, believed set by bootleggers, wrecked the home of Mayor Morris V. Schuler of Seven Mile, near here. His wife and daughter are suffering from nervous prostration as a result. Schuler has been a vigorous dry raider.

FOREST FIRES RAGING

Flames Spreading Despite Efforts of the Fire Fighters.

Helena, Mont., May 15.—Steps have been taken by Montana lumber interests to have timber districts endangered by forest fires closed to all tourists and outing parties. All available men have been called to fight forest flames, and 150 others have been called from Spokane in the last 24 hours. One conflagration covering about 1,000 acres of timber land and three other fires, two of them spreading over 600 acres, are in the Kanku national forest in northern Idaho, being driven over a dry area by a strong wind. Four other fires are raging in the Kootenai forest, in the Pilgrim district of the Cabinet forest, and another in the Pend Oreille forest. These have been spreading in spite of the efforts of 300 fire fighters, and cover an area of approximately 1,000 acres.

Asks For Special Session.

Columbus, May 15.—Representative Homer Ramey of Toledo has asked Governor Donahey to call a special session of the general assembly to enact legislation looking to the financial relief of cities and school districts. He made a personal appeal to the executive to take action. "Municipalities throughout the state are in a bad way and school districts in many instances suffer also. It will be a hardship to await legislative action until the newly-elected assembly goes into session next January," the Lucas county legislator said.

BOUND AND GAGGED

New York, May 15.—Mrs. Howard Johnson, wife of the author of several musical comedies, is under care of a physician, while police investigate her story of being strangled and robbed of diamonds valued at $9,000 in an upper Broadway hotel. Harry Lasser, said to have a police record, is under arrest in connection with the case. Mrs. Johnson, gagged and bound, lay for hours in the bath room of a suite in the hotel, where she went with a woman and man whom she had met at parties along the "great white way." She was hysterical when found by hotel employees.

Knight Not to Speak.

Akron, O., May 15.—Charles L. Knight, in a letter to Charles W. Montgomery, chairman of the Republican state central committee, declined an invitation to speak at the Republican state convention to be held in Columbus May 20 and 21, saying: "As I am not a state official nor a candidate for anything I do not see how I could qualify, or what interest the convention would have in my exercising the privilege you so graciously extend to address it."

Foley Declines Post.

New York, May 15.—Surrogate James A. Foley declined to accept the leadership of Tammany Hall, in succession to his father-in-law, the late Charles F. Murphy.

Walford came home from the neighbors and his mother inquired what he was doing. He said they had been playing war and were knocking the boys down. His mother then inquired if he wasn't afraid of being hurt. "Oh, no; I was one of the knockers," he replied.

Chess Tournament No Place for "Rooters"

Chess is one game, or sport, where the rooter is conspicuous by his absence. The stickler for golf etiquette, who frowns if a robin chirps while some one is attempting to putt, would be considered a noisy nuisance at a chess tournament. A gallery of silent spectators may stand at a respectful distance from two masters of the game, but those of the gallery must keep quiet. If an important move is made—one that appears to have peculiar significance in regard to the outcome of the contest—there must be no cheering. Even nodding approval is barred if the nod will cause the collar to rattle.

Chess masters regard their pieces by the hour. Minutes will pass while all of the possibilities and eventualities are considered from every angle. There must be absolute quiet, for chess is a game for thinkers, and thinkers cannot be disturbed without serious consequences to their train of thought. The escaping of a sigh seems as loud as the exhaust of a locomotive. The dropping of a pin would be regarded as an outright violation of the code of ethics. Chess is a game where concentration rises to sublime heights and where silence is obligatory if not golden. Municipal authorities who have established quiet zones and then been at a loss to know how to maintain quiet in them might learn something from a chess tournament. Place a group of chess players in each zone. —Washington Star.

Cause of Petrification

This process is called petrification. When wood or the carcass of an animal apparently turns to stone we say it petrifies. The word "petrify" itself means turning to or making into stone. It is from the Latin "petra," a rock or stone, and "facio," to make or to do. But the fact is, organic matter does not actually turn into stone. This is what really occurs: Water containing dissolved minerals, such as calcium carbonate and silica, infiltrates through the organic matter. Particle by particle, as time passes by, the calcium carbonate or silica takes the place of the organic matter. After many years, perhaps hundreds or thousands, it seems that the wood or animal has turned to stone, for often the original form and structure are retained in the process. The organic matter really only acts as a mold while the stone is being formed from the minerals in the infiltrating water.

Gold at Earth's Center?

The way in which earthquake waves travel through the earth helps scientists to form a hypothesis of the composition of the earth many miles below the surface. At best, drills and shafts will reach only a mile or two into the interior, but vibrations set up by immense slips in the crust indicate the nature of rocks to a hundred miles below the surface. The effect of tides on the earth taken in conjunction with its weight makes it probable that the core of the earth is made of heavy, dense and elastic metal, probably iron, with perhaps fabulous deposits of gold and platinum at the center.—Current History Magazine.

Business of Criticism.

Its business is simply to know the best that is known and thought in the world, and, by in its turn making this known, to create a current of true and fresh ideas. Its business is to do this with inflexible honesty, with due ability; but its business is to do no more, and to leave alone all questions of practical consequences and applications—questions which will never fail to have due prominence given to them.—Matthew Arnold.

HERRICK REFRIGERATORS

HERRICK DRY AIR SYSTEM REFRIGERATOR

The Big Difference In Refrigerators

The main object of any refrigerator, of course, is the preservation of foods. The refrigerator that will keep foods in perfect condition longest is naturally the refrigerator you want—provided it doesn't increase your ice bills.

The Herrick answers those requirements with facts—not claims. And it does even more. It actually decreases your ice bills while giving you more effective food preservation.

And why? Simply because the Herrick is far more than an ice box—far more than a cold storage place. It is built on the scientifically demonstrated principle that more than merely cold air is necessary to keep foods in good condition for any great length of time.

Perhaps the biggest essentials to scientifically correct refrigeration are—

- No. 1. Circulation of cold dry air.
- No. 2. Effective insulation.
- No. 3. Air-tight construction.

That the Herrick has these necessary essentials is a demonstrated fact.

Many proofs of the truth are visible even to the least informed purchaser. Others are hidden within the walls of the refrigerator, but nevertheless there, performing their functions so important to good health and economy.

Little Nema Big Problem on Farm
Attacks Different Plants, Doing Most Damage in Light, Sandy Soils.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

If all the substance of the earth and of the things that flourish on it, with the exception of the threadlike organisms known as nemas, could be a stroke of magic be made invisible, it would still be possible to distinguish the soil-covered parts of the earth, the streams, lakes and oceans, the insects, animals, birds, fishes, plants, and humans. So widespread and abundant are these nemas, largely parasitic or predaceous, that in this imagined world of transparencies, most living things, the blanket of soil on mountains, hills, and plains, and the bodies of water would be indicated by clouds of these living threads which vary in length from a small fraction of an inch to several feet, and in diameter from that of the finest of hairs to the thickness of a lead pencil.

With this fanciful picture Dr. N. A. Cobb, plant pathologist and nematologist of the United States Department of Agriculture, one of the leading authorities of the world on nematodes, calls attention to the abundance of these organisms which are of untold economic importance to agriculture and to medicine. Certain species of them are responsible for crop diseases which cut our food-producing capacity to an extent, which, if it could be measured, would be startling and discouraging. One species, the gall nema, attacks about five hundred different kinds of plants, making galls or knots on the roots which frequently prevent the plant from producing a profitable crop. Very few plants are free from such attack, not even weeds which are often thought to be blessed with immunity from enemies; but the grasses including the small grains and corn, are less subject to devastation than most of the others. By using these resistant crops in a rotation, it is possible to keep down the number of the pests in the soil as the nematodes will die out in large numbers if a crop, undesirable from their standpoint, is grown on the ground for a year or two. It is necessary, however, to keep down the weeds, because the nemas live in the roots of a large number of them. Even a weed that is not badly infested will carry over the infection from year to year, and it does not take long for a few of the pests to repopulate the soil when a susceptible crop is growing in it. Allowing two months to each generation, which is ample, a pair of gall nemas will have five to ten million descendants in six months, should all survive.

These root-knot producers do the most damage in a light, sandy soil, as it is easier for them to make their way through it from root to root and they are moved about more readily by the flow of soil water. In real heavy clay soils the pest is sometimes of little importance, though it may exist there. Sometimes it becomes worse when a soil is lightened up by adding manure or by opening it with green crops turned under and by thorough cultivation.

Attacks Variety of Crops.
Among the many crops attacked by the root-knot nematode, the most important are alfalfa, clover, cotton, cow peas (with the exception of a few varieties), field peas, flax, fig, grape, peach, soy beans (with the exception of the Laredo variety), pumpkins, sugar beets, sugar cane, sweet potatoes, tobacco, vetch, a large number of truck crops, ornamental plants and trees. Some of the plants attacked are legumes which normally have nodules produced by beneficial bacteria; but usually it is not difficult to distinguish between these growths and those thickenings on the roots made by the gall nematode. The former are more or less globular and easily removed, while the latter are usually club-shaped or irregular masses, really enlargements of the roots and rootlets themselves.

When the soil freezes large numbers of the nematodes are killed off and, as a consequence, the pest is not so bad in the northern states as in the southern. However, enough of the organisms get down below the frost line so that they never are annihilated. In greenhouses they become bad pests in any part of the country, but by treating the soil with hot water or steam it is possible to destroy them along with fungi and many undesirable bacteria. It is now recommended that new greenhouses be constructed in the first place with tile or pipes in the beds with a view to steaming.

Although nemas exist in enormous numbers and kinds in the soil and are of great importance in crop production, there are important species which infest different animals, insects and man. The hookworm is a nema, and there is one infesting fox which is blood red in color and attains a length of several feet. Investigations are being made by the department to learn if these parasites can be used to combat certain insects of economic importance. It has been found that a certain nema has a predilection for grasshoppers, and Doctor Cobb is of the opinion that it is this enemy, in some cases, which causes the "hopper" scourge to rise and subside in great waves. This nema, which attains a length of 20 inches or more and is about the thickness of a coarse thread, makes the host insect sterile, and in that way reduces the increase enormously. When the "hoppers" become plentiful the parasites increase and cut down their numbers; then through lack of grasshoppers the nemas decrease, and the cycle repeats. Investigators are now trying to find out if it will be practicable to introduce this particular nema in regions where the "hoppers" are not infested, and in that way help protect the crops.

Have Economic Possibilities.
There are many other possibilities for utilizing these natural enemies in the interest of the farmer. There is a nema parasite infesting the cucumber beetle and a study is being made of the problem of introducing them in localities where this beetle is abundant and not already badly infested. Practically all the injurious insects, and the beneficial ones as well, are thought to have their nemas, and it is possible that some day these parasites will be used for our benefit just as insect parasites of insects are now being used in efforts to control such economic pests as the Japanese beetle, the European corn borer and various caterpillars.

In the soil and in water there are nemas which prey on other species of their own kind and it is thought possible that some day we may be able to increase the numbers of those predatory nemas which prey on the economically destructive ones.

This field of nematology is one which it is thought may be cultivated with a great deal of promise for the farmer. It is certain that much more work must be done in the control of those that are reducing the yield of crops, particularly that widespread one which produces root-knot on so many valuable plants.

Clover Failure Is Due to Many Causes
Ailments of Crop Discussed in Bulletin Just Issued.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

That the decline in red-clover culture is no myth becomes abundantly evident when one reads the agricultural literature of the past 40 years. Letters from farmers to the agricultural press and articles by farmers and by the experiment station workers in the press all express concern regarding this condition and offer various reasons and remedies. The United States Department of Agriculture has been alive to the necessity of solving the problem of clover failure, and has set forth its observations as to the causes as well as suggestions for more favorable results, in Farmers' Bulletin 1365, Clover Failure, just issued.

Causes of clover failure, says the department, are to be sought in improper soil conditions, in diseases, in the use of nonadapted seed or in improper methods of seeding, and in the use of harmful nurse crops. Improper soil conditions result from constant cultivation and the consequent loss of lime, phosphates, potash and organic matter, making the soil unsuited to the growth of clover. Such conditions can be remedied by applying the elements lacking in a field and by working in manure and other forms of organic matter.

In some cases clover failure is due to diseases, and then a disease-resistant variety must be used if available, or some other legume substituted for red clover. Alsike clover, hairy vetch or annual summer legumes, such as soy beans, should be used when for any reason land that needs lime cannot be economically limed. When red clover fails on land well supplied with lime, sweet clover can often be substituted to advantage.

A copy of the bulletin may be secured as long as the supply lasts, from the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

FARM FACTS

Seed time is here.

Reforestation today is preparation for tomorrow.

High-priced seed is not always good seed, but low-priced seed can never be good seed.

Wise Nature meant leaves and other vegetation to decay and enrich the soil. Why be foolish and burn it?

Hubam clover has some advantage in that it will probably make a larger growth the first year than does the biennial white sweet clover.

AMUSEMENTS

Appearing in one of the most delightful picture comedies seen here this season, Thomas Meighan, popular Paramount star, scored an emphatic hit in George Ade's "Woman Proof" at the Met theater last night. The production, which was directed by Alfred E. Green with the assistance of Mr. Ade, is excellent in every way and all who saw Mr. Meighan in "Back Home and Broke" will be delighted with this latest screen offering.

Mr. Meighan is seen in this picture as Tom Rockwood, a civil engineer who is required by the terms of his father's will to marry within five years after the latter's death in order to inherit an estate of a million or more. His brothers and sisters who are bound by the same command are ready to marry, but Tom fails to find a woman whom he can love, and as the final day approaches and Tom still remains unclaimed, it becomes evident that the entire estate will go to an old home.

How the Rockwood family works to have Tom fall in love, forms the meat of the story. At the last moment he meets and loves a beautiful girl played by Lila Lee, but there are serious hitches in their love romance which threatens to spoil all the plans of the Rockwood family. These are finally adjusted in a romantic manner as the picture proves.

The production is excellent in every respect, the character portrayals highly artistic and the situations extremely interesting. "Woman-Proof" is a distinctly worthwhile comedy which none should fail to see. Final showings tomorrow.

Now is the time to subscribe for the Union-Herald. We give $16 in Aer-O-Plane Bonds for each $1 paid on subscriptions to either Daily or Weekly.

Frost at Varying Heights.

The reason frost occurs on low lands when there is none on high ground is because the higher ground cools off more rapidly than the lower, and the upper stratum of air being thus condensed, flows downward and deposits the moisture, which changes into frost. Cold air is heavier than warm and settles to the bottom.

Unique Belgian Sport.
Sand-boat racing is a sport enjoyed by Belgians and visitors along the sand dunes of La Panne. The boats are so named because they are sailed on the shore. A small frame is spread on four wheels and on the cross bars of the frame is set a good sized mast and sail. This wheeled craft is guided by a rope, as boys steer a bob sledge or a small wheel. In a good breeze the boats make 15 to 20 miles an hour. The sand sailor can tack or turn his craft around just as easily as if he were sailing on water.

Yesterday afternoon Wally Patterson and Soldier Mellow of Columbus worked out at the Armory, having arrived at noon to finish their training for the show Friday evening in Circleville. This exhibition promises to be one of the best boxing shows ever held within miles of here. The card is excellent. Popular prices will prevail and every one will be delighted at this show, the second to be pulled by the Armory Athletic club. Patterson and Mellow will complete their training by boxing a number of rounds this evening.

FRANKIE WELLS, of Chillicothe is called "a willing scraper." He has fought Brockie Chapman and Jackie Mellow to a draw, knocked out White Baxter, K. O. Cook and Al Hays and gained the decision over K. O. Washbaum, Billy Gibbs and Young Danda. In the semi-final Friday night he meets

SOLDIER MELLOW, Columbus a good light weight. No dope is at hand at present in regards to his engagements, but many followers here know him and agree that he is a fine boy. This bout will be eight-rounds to a decision and the principles will weight in at 130.

The main go will bring together two sterling millers in the persons of Wally Patterson and Al Leever. Here are two of the best welter weights in the state and they are an evenly matched clever, willing pair.

Carl Thomas and Joe Monoco will bring us a return engagement in the second preliminary, their former meeting brought a lot of favorable comment and the return was in great demand.

Battling Toles meets a mighty promising glove slinger in the part of K. O. Barksdale. Toles is a very likely lad too, as Circleville fans will bear witness.

Lesson for May 18

ISAIAH AND THE ASSYRIAN CRISIS.

LESSON TEXT—Isa. 36, 37.
GOLDEN TEXT—"God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble."—Ps. 46:1.
PRIMARY TOPIC—How God Answered Their Letter.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Isaiah and the Assyrian.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Isaiah's Service to His Country.

I. The King of Assyria Invades Judah (Isa. 36).

1. Rabshakeh Meets a Deputation From Judah (vv. 1-21). Rabshakeh was a representative of Sennacherib, the king of Assyria, whose mission was to induce Judah to surrender. In order to accomplish this he:

(1) Tried to bully them into submission (vv. 4-9). He taunted them with their weakness and told them that Egypt was a broken reed that would not only fail of support but even pierce the hand that reached out to it. He challenged them by offering 2,000 horses, if they would furnish riders for them. If they could not furnish this small number it would be futile for them to attempt to withstand the great Assyrian army.

(2) He asserted that it was useless for them to put their trust in God (v. 10). He even declared that the Lord had sent him to destroy Judah.

(3) He tried to create a panic among the people (vv. 13-21). Fearing a panic among the people the deputation of the Jews urged Rabshakeh not to speak in the Jews' language. Taking up the suggestion he spoke loudly in the Jews' language, warning them against trusting in Hezekiah.

(4) He promised them plenty in another land similar to their own (vv. 16, 17). He urged them to make agreement with him and upon his return from Egypt he would take them to a land of plenty, but the people were loyal to Hezekiah, for they knew that the cruel Assyrians could not be trusted.

2. The Deputation Reports to Hezekiah (v. 22). They rent their garments doubtless in fear and dismay over their perilous condition, for the crisis long before predicted by Isaiah had now come upon them.

II. Hezekiah's Behavior (Isa. 37: 1-35).

1. Resorted to the House of the Lord (v. 1). This is a sure resort of God's people in time of distress (Ps. 73:18, 17; 77:13). This action was prompted by faith, for God had promised that those who in time of distress resorted to His house would be heard by Him (II Chron. 7:15, 16).

2. Sent Isaiah (vv. 2-7). The logical and natural thing for the king to do under such circumstances was to send for God's prophet. The prophet sent back words of encouragement to Hezekiah, assuring him that God would bring deliverance.

3. Hezekiah's Prayer (vv. 14-20). Rabshakeh, who seems to have withdrawn from Jerusalem for a little while, now returns from Sennacherib with a letter warning Hezekiah against trusting God for deliverance, assuring him that he would be deceived for no god was able to stand against the Assyrian army. He spread the letter before the Lord and prayed.

(1) He recognized God's throne, making it the ground of his plea (v. 16).

(2) He recognized the peril which threatened the people (vv. 17-19). Sennacherib had indeed laid waste the surrounding nations, but that ruin resulted because the gods of the nations were not real.

(3) He asked for deliverance (v. 20). He desired that deliverance would come in such a way as to vindicate and honor the Lord.

4. Isaiah's Message to Hezekiah (vv. 21-35).

(1) That Sennacherib's sin was blasphemy against the Holy One of Israel (vv. 21-23).

(2) That Sennacherib had forgotten that he was an instrument in God's hand (vv. 24-28).

(3) Judgment upon Sennacherib was imminent (vv. 29-35). Deliverance would soon come and that through the energy of the Lord of hosts.

III. Destruction of the Assyrian Army (vv. 36-38).

The angel of the Lord went forth and smote in the camp of the Assyrians 185,000 men, so Sennacherib was turned back by the way he came. He did not enter Jerusalem and after this defeat he went back to Nineveh to live and while there worshipping in the house of his god he was assassinated.

In One's Home

It is often easier to pose as a philanthropist abroad than to be known as kind, reasonable and unselfish to one's home.

Giving Thanks

Giving thanks for what we have is a good preventive against whining about what we have not.

Rearing the Child

Delicate Process

No accurate method of "assaying" asbestos ore has ever been discovered, due to the fact that no matter how carefully a piece of rock is broken in order to release the ore, some of the fibers are broken.

In Court

"Gentlemen," said the judge, "in the interest of economizing time I would suggest that no witness be asked the same question more than three times."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Ancient Thumb Rings

Imperial Rome permitted only the senators and nobles to wear golden rings. The common folk had to be satisfied with iron rings. At the time when luxury reached its climax in Rome, rings were often worn on the thumb, many of them of a ridiculous size. One of these thumb rings, bearing an intaglio of the bust of Empress Plotina, was fully 2½ inches broad.

Demand this trade-mark

"Sleep is Plumb Good"

—says Dr. Frank Crane

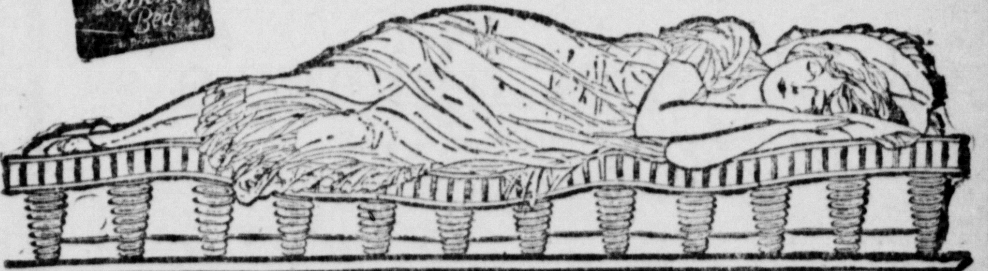

It sure is, when it is "good" sleep. Such sleep that completely rests and restores body and mind can only be obtained when the body is perfectly comfortable and relaxed. Such relaxation can only come when the bedspring fits the body perfectly.

Rome Quality DeLuxe Bedspring is scientifically designed to conform to the body curves, supporting every part without undue pressure.

Call today. Ask us to show you the Rome Quality DeLuxe. It is interchangeable—fits either wood or metal beds.

Dr. Frank Crane's Book, "Friend Bed," is one of the most fascinating books ever written on the benefits of sleep. It is attractively illustrated and is yours for the asking.

Get Beautiful Effects
From Lighted Marble

When an official of the United States bureau of standards was making an inspection of indoor lighting arrangements as used in Europe he was surprised to find an old church in Italy in which the daylight was filtered through thin slabs of delicate tinted marble. The effect was a surprisingly beautiful one and one not easily duplicated by our makers of ornamental glassware, as there is a peculiar charm about the natural coloring of some of the Italian marbles, writes the Washington Star.

However, the marble must be so thin for such a purpose that it could not form a commercial substitute for window panes or for use in electric light fixtures. Now a French investigator has found that such marble slabs can be used in much greater thickness if they are polished on both sides and then saturated with paraffin or shellac. By giving them such a treatment he has been able to obtain beautiful effects in illuminating corridors by the light of tungsten lamps concealed behind the marble walls of the hallways. The loss of light is said to be only about 20 per cent (or no more than with most of the milky glassware used in fixtures), and as the whole plate of marble glows the effect is surprisingly charming and unusual.

A Clipper's Sails

Another sight worth taking a voyage for is that of the sails by moonlight. Our course was "south and by east, half south," so that we seemed bound for the full moon as she rolled up over our wavering horizon. Then I used to go forward to the bowsprit and look back. Our ship was a clipper, with every rag set, stunsails, skyscrapers, and all; nor was it easy to believe that such a wonder could be built of canvas as that white many-storied pile of cloud that stooped over me or drew back as we rose and fell with the waves.—Lowell.

MUSIC LOVERS

Rare Treat in Recital of Misses Louise Renick and Frances Boecher.

The recital given by Miss Louise A. Renick and Miss Frances Boecher at St. Philip's Parish house Wednesday evening was an occasion of much enthusiasm to the music lovers of Circleville.

The old adage that a prophet is without honor in his own town can well be refuted, for we are more than proud to acknowledge the possession of two such talented young ladies.

Miss Renick proved to us her marked ability both in technique and interpretation in the selection of her program. Her rendition of Debussy, showing the clear, smooth tones as compared to the intricate tempo of the Chopin Valse, demonstrated her versatility of style and the promise of future triumphs.

Miss Boecher gave her recitations most skillfully with an ease of manner, clear enunciation and quick change from pathos to humor which caught her audience in sympathetic appreciation.

The rendition of Enoch Arden showed ability, wonderful memory, skillful teamwork. The interwoven Strauss theme giving the listeners a most delightful thrill to the romantic lines.

We all love youth and beauty and when combined with talent is a thing to cherish and encourage. Circleville should be proud of its own talent and may we hear them again and watch their progress with keen interest.

Shrapnel Cartridge Cases.

The material used for shrapnel cartridge cases generally consists of a composition of two parts copper and one part zinc. This alloy has been found to possess the best physical qualities—that is, high tensile strength and a large percentage of elongation when properly annealed.

Export of Cattle.

Live cattle were first exported to England from America in 1861, but it did not become a regular business until several years later.

DANCING PARTIES

Weekly Events at C. A. C. Gym and Growing in Popularity.

Have you arranged your party for the dance on Saturday evening at the C. A. C. gym? We know of several that have been arranged and hope that you will be among those present, because we know that everybody intends to have a good time and we want you to be in on this pleasure.

It has been intimated that a large party from Chillicothe is being arranged to attend either this dance or one of those in the near future. If such is the case there will be a feeling of deep appreciation on the part of the management and it is hoped that the young folks of Circleville and vicinity will join with the club in entertaining these guests.

These weekly dances are becoming more popular with each repetition, and that of last Saturday night was well attended. Quite a large number of young folks living in the country districts surrounding Circleville were present and there were quite a few dancers from nearby towns.

Club members have decorated the gym in an artistic manner, which will add very materially to the atmosphere of pleasure of forthcoming dances.

The music is equal to any furnished for any dance any where and there is no reason why this series of weekly dances should not prove very popular before many more weeks.

The leap year party idea is being worked up by several crowds of girls and promises to be one of the features Saturday evening of this week and of these dances.

Remember the next dance is on will be followed by one on each Saturday evening.

Are we for the C. A. C. dances? I'll say we are.

Training Memory.

The memory ought to be a store-room; many turn theirs into a lumber room. Train the understanding. Take care that the mind has a stout and straight stem. Leave the flowers of wit and fancy to come of themselves. Like the sun, we cannot see it moving, but after a while we perceive that it has moved; nay, that it has moved onward.
